

MIDWEEK WAR EXTRA OF STAR EAGERLY BOUGHT

Excellence of Photographic Work and Rotogravure Printing Is Subject of Comment.

The Washington public was ready to wait for the second number of the star's midweek war extra when it made its appearance in the hands of newsboys and on newsstands throughout the District yesterday afternoon. The call for this pictorial magazine was much larger than anticipated, and a large number of readers of The Star have placed standing orders with their newsboys and dealers for the series of this beautiful and vivid illustration of all the important events of the world's greatest war.

With Congress again in session and many prominent officials returned to the capital, the demand for the midweek extra has been larger than for the first number. Many want to preserve each number of this pictorial magazine as a vivid and authoritative record of the events of the war. So many applied to The Star for back copies of last week's extra, despite the fact that a second lot had been printed, that the demand for the extra was almost exhausted.

Not only was there universal comment on the excellence of the photographic work and the fact that all of the pictures were of particular interest because of their showing of conditions in the very heart of the war-torn regions, but also there was artistic interest in the new process by which this magazine is printed. Probably nowhere in the country are there so many persons interested in such a new process as in Washington.

Rotogravure Method Used.

The rotogravure printing method applied particularly to the employees of the bureau of engraving and printing and the government printing office, who know better than most citizens the difficulties that have to be met in reproducing so clearly on paper even the best of photographs.

Taking into consideration all the difficulties of war photography, not only the danger and the difficulty of setting within proper distance of the fighting, but remembering that the very earth is a tremble and the atmosphere clouded with smoke from the guns and from burning villages, those who know most about artistic printing are emphatic in praise of the results achieved in The Star pictorial magazine.

Among the most striking pictures are full-page illustrations of Gen. Joseph Joffre, commander of the French armies, and of Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of all the armies of Russia, who has proved himself a master tactician in the present war, famous for his suppression of the revolution in 1905 and the Finland uprising. There is also a full-page illustration entitled "The Price of Peace," which shows a street in Fiume, chief port of Austria-Hungary, which the Italian government will probably demand along with other Italian towns on the northern shores of the Adriatic. The price of maintaining neutrality when the Italian people clamored for war. This is of peculiar time interest, as cable dispatches are discussing the territorial price to be paid to Italy.

There are snapshots of the British of Wales going to join the staff of Field Marshal French. With him in the carriage is shown the royal equerry, Maj. William Cuddeback, slain in battle.

Soldiers in Trenches.
Intimate views of the soldiers in the trenches, covering an enemy, preparing their final meals, army engineers clearing lines of communication, bringing up ammunition and provisions, give The Star readers a near view of actual conditions in the embattled countries.

Those who wish to keep all of these pictorial magazines as a war history should get this second number from their dealers as soon as possible, as the reserve supply has been depleted by the heavy street sales yesterday.

Safety at Sea Convention Reported.

The international convention for safety at sea, drafted by the London conference, called at the suggestion of the United States shortly after the Titanic disaster and already ratified by the majority of the maritime powers, has been favorably reported to the Senate by the foreign relations committee. President Wilson directed attention to the fact that the time limit for possible ratification would expire at the end of the present year, and it is expected the Senate will act upon the convention in a few days.

China's new mines are exporting about 100 tons of tungsten each month to Japan, at about $100 a ton.

WAR IS DECLARED ON TROLLEY POLE NO. 190

Connecticut Avenue Citizens' Association Call It a Menace to Automobiles.

Trolley pole No. 190, at the foot of Newark street, Cleveland Park, which has been the cause of several automobile accidents, was unanimously condemned by the Connecticut Avenue Citizens' Association, meeting last night in the assembly hall of the Army and Navy Preparatory School, after members had described the position of the pole in the line of traffic and the danger to traffic.

The pole, it was explained, stands squarely in the middle of the pathway taken by automobiles which turn from Connecticut avenue to go up Newark street. The pole has long been a menace, and an absolute danger to travelers both in automobiles and afoot, it was brought out, and only last week a man was nearly killed by running into it in his automobile. A citizen last night told how he himself had been knocked breathless by running into the pole while walking. The association asks the removal of the pole.

Better Express Deliveries.

P. B. Park of the Chevy Chase Citizens' Association addressed the meeting on the question of better express deliveries for this section of the suburbs, and told of the work which his association is doing toward this. Attacks on the half-cent-half plan by the Chevy Chase to the Treasury. He asked for the co-operation of the Connecticut avenue citizens.

By a resolution a committee, consisting of Mr. Crawford, chairman; David Selke and Alfred T. Gage, was appointed by President Arthur E. Powell to co-operate with the Chevy Chase association in a matter similarly affecting the citizens of both associations.

A motion to change the date of annual election of officers from January to May was unanimously defeated. Attacks on the half-cent-half plan in Congress were discussed.

J. P. Crawford briefly reviewed the proposed amendments to the District appropriation bill attacking the half-cent-half plan, and said:

"These present attacks indicate to me that what we thought was a safe escape last year does not turn out to be so, and that the attacks have been made with more vigor. What we can do I do not know. It has been hinted by some that it would be better, perhaps, if we do nothing, but leave ourselves in the hands of Congress."

A resignation of Dr. C. W. A. Veditz from the association was accepted and a vote of thanks given him. Dr. Veditz was recently appointed as commercial attaché of the United States and is now en route to Paris.

For Full Fire Pensions.

C. W. Gill of the Firemen's Association spoke in behalf of an adequate firemen's pension bill, pointing out that there is a deficiency under the present system of nearly $60,000, and that widows who are now entitled to $40 are only getting $28. The executive committee of the association will consider the matter and will report later for action by the association.

New members elected last night included E. Hume Talbot, H. T. P. Norton, William Bass Leonard, Washington R. Berry and L. J. Johnston.

Coal Strike Not Near Solution.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, December 10.—That there is no immediate prospect of settling the strike of 15,000 coal miners in the eastern Ohio field is indicated in the statement issued by the Ohio Coal Operators' Association defining its position and which said that its mines would not be reopened until the miners agreed to a wage scale "in line with other contracts which they have made in competitive fields and which is not an increase over last year."

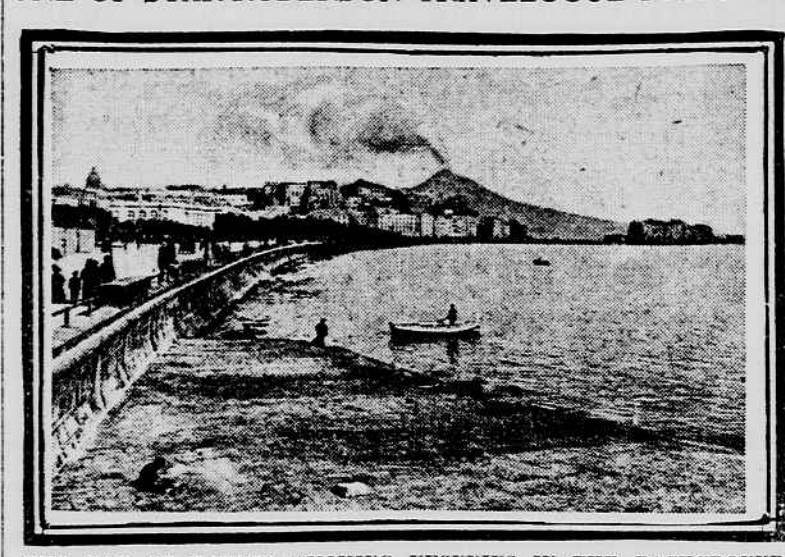

Capt. J. H. Phillips Recovering.

Capt. John H. Phillips, who was master of the bay schooner William Donnelly and who was washed ashore clinging to a plank after the schooner sank in Chesapeake bay in the early part of the week, is slowly recovering from the injuries he received, but it will be two weeks or longer before he will be able to leave St. Vincent's Hospital, Norfolk.

ITALY WILL FEATURE NEXT PICTURE TRIP

Travelogue Roberson to Take The Star's Tourists on Delightful Tour.

Italy is to be the picture-trip under the direction of Travelogue Roberson for The Star's tourists this evening in Convention Hall. A sudden shift in program was made last evening, which the Roberson war pictures, which were scheduled for the entire week, were discontinued, and the regular travelogues by Frank R. Roberson, under The Star's auspices, resumed.

Tonight's travelogue is considered one of the best that Mr. Roberson has to offer, because Italy is regarded as one of the most fascinating and lovely countries in the world. All the varied points of interest in this sunny land will be toured in picture; Rome with its ruins, which the Robersons, Naples with its beautiful bay, Milan with its famous cathedral, Venice with its picturesque lagoons and canals and Florence with its art treasures.

Cavalry in Spirited Action.

A film of unusual interest will be of an Italian cavalry officers' drill, in which young lieutenants qualify for captain commissions.

The drill is in the nature of a test of horsemanship, and the riders are compelled to pass over a hundred miles of the roughest and wildest country in all Italy. They force their horses down the steep sides of mountains, plunge them into the rivers and dash through forests at breakneck speed.

The use of the torpedo in naval warfare will be demonstrated in motion picture.

tures of target practice of the Italian navy. The torpedo will be shown discharging from a tube, making its way through the water and finally striking its goal, causing a terrific explosion.

Schedule for Balance of Week.

For the remainder of the week the following subjects will make up the travelogue schedule: "Norway, the Land of the Midnight Sun," Friday evening; "Beautiful Wales," Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock; "Scotland," Saturday evening; "Out-of-Doors in the Holy Land and a Journey to Desolate Petra," Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and "Germany and the War," Sunday evening. The weekly matinees, except Saturday, have been discontinued.

The same prices for the travelogues will prevail. Ten cents, with the coupon from the first page of The Star, for general admission, and 25 cents for a seat in the reserved section. The latter may be secured in advance at the F. G. Smith Piano Company, 1217 F street, between the hours of 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. and 4 to 5:30 p.m. daily.

SONS OF REVOLUTION HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Plans for Memorials to War Heroes Discussed—Officers Elected.

Plans for the erection of memorials to revolutionary war heroes in Washington and Bladensburg, Md., and election of officers for the ensuing year were features of the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Sons of the Revolution in the District of Columbia Tuesday evening, in the Army and Navy Club.

These officers were chosen: President, Albin K. Harris; vice president, Gaillard Hunt; secretary, Col. George Richards; U. S. M. C. treasurer, Balch H. W. Lewis; chaplain, Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim; registrar, Dr. Marcus Benjamin; board of managers, Lieut. Col. Henry T. Allen, U. S. A.; Walter C. Clephane, Frederic L. Hudekoper, Dr. Ralph Jenkins, Col. John Van R. Hoff, U. S. A.; George N. McLanahan, Almonstead Peter, Jr., William H. Walker and Franklin Steele.

Announcement was made in the report of the secretary that the board of managers had renewed the offer of a gold medal for the best essay submitted by a school child of the District on some subject connected with the revolution. A new member of the board of judges has to be named to succeed Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, recently deceased. The other members are Gaillard Hunt, chairman, and Senator Theodore E. Burton.

Report of Historian Read.

The report of the historian, Gaillard Hunt, was read, eulogizing the members of the society who had died during the year, namely: Rev. Benjamin E. Rich, John E. Reylburn, Samuel G. W. Benjamin, Rear Admiral Thomas H. Stevens, U. S. N., retired; Benjamin K. Bradford and Mark R. Hatch.

The report of the board of managers, reciting the work of the society for the past year, was read by the secretary. He told of the investigation at the direction of the society into the condition of the burial ground at Wakenfield, Va., containing the graves of George Washington's progenitors. The graves are being preserved with care. The society also was recorded as continuing to support the effort for the erection of a statue to Admiral de Grasse, which was advocated by a delegate to the triennial convention of the general society.

An executive committee, of which Barry Bulkeley is chairman, has in charge plans for the erection of a memorial at Bladensburg, Md., to Capt. Joshua Barney, for his services in defense of the city of Washington August 24, 1814.

Medal Presented Society.

A letter was read from Mayor James H. Preston of Baltimore, thanking the society for its co-operation in connection with the exercises held in Baltimore in September, under the auspices of the National Star Spangled Banner Centennial Commission. Mayor Preston presented to the society a medal commemorative of this commission's celebration. Barry Bulkeley, chairman of the committee of delegates, was chosen as permanent custodian. Dr. Nevill Monroe Hopkins delivered to the society an illustrated address on the European war as observed by him in France and Belgium. The members of the Army and Navy Club were invited by the society to hear Dr. Hopkins' illustrated address.
